Observations...

By the Editor

Our friend, Alden Mauffray, is putting on his annual big nine sale. The sale started Thursday and will last for nine days, through Saturday, March 3. A glimpse at the Big Nine ad in this week's issue, may offer you a real bargain in many articles you really need about the house. In addition to those listed there are many other items at real prices. We suggest you drop by Mauffray's Hardware Store and let Alden and his pleasant and affable staff show you their many bargains.

We are indeed elated to see the Board of Supervisors making a start to try and save the beach road. We have noticed that the mudjack, which has been in storage for quite some time, has been brought out. Apparently, it means that some much needed work will be done. This roadway is most important to Bay St. Louis, Waveland, Clermont Harbor and Lake Shore, and let us not forget that it is very important to the county as a whole. This is the highest taxed section of Hancock County, and pray tell, just what would happen to Waveland, and the other sections if this roadway collapsed? The road is breaking in many sections; and, as we have said before, it is being held only by the reinforcement in many spots. The urgency of this work should not be underestimated; and the Board should, by all means, secure the services of an individual who is well versed in the operation of a mudjack crew to supervise this work. The State Highway Department have men who are experienced in this type work; and certainly some arrangement could be made with the department to secure the services of one of its employees for a period of time, until a crew could be trained.

Congratulations are in order for Leo W. Seal, President of the Hancock Bank, and his entire staff for the progress this institution has made during the year 1950. We are in receipt of a telegram from Clinton B. Axford, Editor of the American Banker, that the Hancock Bank has gained 115 place in its standing among the 1100 largest banks in the United States during the year 1950. Quite an accomplishment for a small town bank. It now ranks 1038th, on the list as compared with 1153rd at the end of 1949.

The Board of Supervisors at their meeting last Friday, passed a resolution for the election of two justices of the Peace for beat 5, and the same for beat 1. During the last term there was only one justice in each of these beats. It may be that there is sufficient business for two justices of the peace, but it certainly makes a whole lot better job for one. At this same meeting, the Board decided to make a change in the service officer for the County. Edward J. Jones has been holding this job under appointment from the Board for the past few months. His services are to be terminated as of March 1, and Walter James Phillips has been named in his stead. The whims and changes of mind of a Board are oft times quite peculiar, particularly as an election approaches.

W. T. Woleben, Deputy Collector Internal Revenue will be at the courthouse February 26, to help you make out your income tax returns and your declaration of estimated taxes, and to offer you such advice as you may need. Do not hesitate to call upon Mr. Woleben, he will be glad to help you.

The Mission being conducted by Reverend Father Kenneth Hoffman of the Chicago Mission Band, at the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf will end tonight. The success of the Mission can be attested by the large crowd in attendance. It is estimated that some 800 people have heard the Missionary each night. Right Reverend Monsignor Andrew J. Gmelch, Pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf is much elated over the success of the Mission, and speaks in very laudatory terms of the ability of Father Hoffman as a speaker.

Pete and Lou Porter are down Mexico way. Undoubtedly Doc Keefe's narration to us the other day about the value of the Peso had its effect on Pete. Don't take it too seriously Pete, but all kidding aside, we certainly would like to have your viewpoint.

Now that your poll taxes are paid, are you sure that your registration is in order? Check now. Be positive.

Pre-dinner refreshments will be served at noon and dinner at 1:00 for the members and their wives and dates.

At a recent meeting, the Executive Committee postponed any action on changing the method of electing officers and the motion that a Ten-Dollar-A-Year club for the Brother Peter Fund be formed, until these ideas could be presented to the whole Alumni body in March. At this meeting, there was also a petition that part of the proceeds thus far collected for this fund be used beginning with the September term of school, and the remainder be invested for future use, and the interest to be applied for scholarships.

Rehearsals for "Born Yesterday," first production of the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre for 1951, will soon be underway. Miss Betty Lee Mitchell, director, announced.

RECEIVE COLUMNIST'S APPROVAL

Dorothy Kilgallen, well known syndicated columnist, has placed her stamp of approval on this play as one of the best current productions of the year.

Miss Mitchell's past experience in theatrical circles enables her to undertake the direction of "Born Yesterday" with confidence. She was graduated from the Pasadena Players in 1946; and later joined the St. Lawrence Players in upstate New York in successful summer stock. The director also took part in "Hellzapoppin'" and performed over several radio networks while in New York. She was recently invited, as a guest of the New Orleans Little Theatre, to be an assistant director.

Miss Mitchell has reviewed the play four times, and her personal interest in it will help her make a success of the opening play for the Little Theatre's 1951 season.

URGED TO SEND DUES

Members of the Theatre are urged to send their dues to Leo W. Seal, Jr., and for the benefit of newcomers who wish to join the organization, the membership dues, which are $5.00 on the holder to see the six plays staged during the year. We are authorized to announce the candidacy of Gerald V. Price, Sr., for the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector of Hancock County, Mississippi, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary election to be held August 7, 1951.

TO THE WHITE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI

In offering myself as a candidate for the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector of Hancock County, I do so full well realizing the high responsibility that this office carries with it.

It has been my pleasure to serve the people of Beat Five in the capacity of Constable for fourteen years, and in that way, I have acquired what I believe experience sufficient to qualify me to run the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector, if the good people of Hancock County see fit to so elect me.

It is my purpose in offering myself as a candidate for Sheriff and Tax Collector, to run solely on my merits, and not upon the merits of my opponents. It will be my purpose, if elected, to be on call for twenty-four hours of the day, as I have been as Constable of Beat Five. I will personally answer all calls made to me.

Not only will I be available for police and law enforcement duties in the strict sense of the word, but in times of storms and other disasters, I will personally conduct my office in such a way that there will be no looting or other advantages taken of the unfortunate who are hurt by the catastrophe. I will be on call for twenty-four hours a day to help the people of Hancock County, regardless of the occasion.

It is my purpose to have deputies spotted throughout the county so that each and every Beat will be able to call upon a law enforcement officer, immediately, in times of need.

The people of Hancock County, I believe, know my record as constable, and on this record alone, I feel that I have the right to ask people to give serious consideration to my candidacy. I have served Beat Five for fourteen years. Let me serve five beats for four years.

Respectfully submitted,
Gerald V. Price Sr.

Donate to Hospital

In the past few years several people have remembered a number of their dear friends who have died by making donations in their memory to the local hospital.

For this reason, cards have been printed and are on hand at the hospital for anyone wishing to make a donation of this type. These cards are sent to members of the families of the deceased.

The Hospital wishes to thank the many friends who have used this method of conveying their sympathy.

Mr. LeTissier, in a statement made this week, said "no formal request for a reopening of the bridge case is being made at this time. We are just letting the highway commission know we are still interested, if they will let us keep our foot in the door."

NO FORMAL REQUEST

According to Chairman Sidney Roebuck of the commission the body had not been formally asked to review its decision to relocate the bridge approximately 2000 feet north of its present location. However, he said, the commission is open to the presentation of new evidence at all times.

The protesting group, according to Mr. LeTissier, had employed R. W. Thompson, Gulfport attorney, to serve as counsel; and that he had been employed "to carry this thing all the way through."

WANT PRESENT LOCATION

Mr. LeTissier, who indicated that the group may resort to court action in an effort to prevent the movement of the bridge and the highway route from the Ullman Avenue route, said "the people down here want it where it is." He also pointed out that this was the sentiment of the majority of the people on the northern route.

In contrast to this statement, Misses Barbara and Hilda Sick, who said they owned property within 300 feet of the proposed new highway route, stated that they were in favor of the movement of the highway to the northern location.

CIRCULATE PETITION

They added that they had circulated a petition which was signed by more than 80 persons who favored the new bridge route.

The proposed bridge is expected to cost approximately $7,000,000. It will be a four lane concrete structure to replace the present wooden bridge.

Construction of the bridge and issuance of revenue bonds to be retired from a toll on the structure was authorized by the 1950 Legislature.

A "HOT POTATO"

From all indications the National Democratic Party has a hot potato in its hands. It appears to be so hot, that the smoke is beginning to billow from it; and where there is smoke, so we have always been told, there is fire. Oliver Emmerich, McComb Editor charged, in an editorial, that in order to secure a job with the Price Administration, or in the postal department it was necessary to pay off the Mississippi Democratic Committee now in power.

Affidavits have been furnished to the Mississippi Senators who have asked for an investigation. Up to this time the Mississippi Delegation in Congress has been on the black list of the National Administration, and has not been consulted on appointments. Senator Stennis says that he suggested the names of several outstanding Mississippians, friendly to the National Democratic Party, who could be consulted on matters of appointment at the time the delegation was refused any recognition, but that no heed was paid to his suggestion.

We are of the same opinion as Senator Stennis that it is indeed surprising that this matter has not come to light before this. Knowing some of the individuals associated with the Truman Committee in Mississippi, little other could have been expected.

It is hard to believe that a man, who is President of the United States, would allow his prejudices to grow to such an extent that they should warp his better judgment. But it is neither her nor there that is the actual situation. The majority of Mississippians did not vote for him, and he is determined to exercise his presidential powers in an effort to punish the powers that be, including our Congressional Delegation, for this unforgivable offense.

The attitude he has assumed will bring him much grief if an investigation is held, and will probably bring to life much more than is presently known. The results of this investigation will have its reflexes nationally.

It may be that Mr. Truman will live long enough to realize that the good of his country should rise above petty personal and political prejudices.

LETTERS

Dear Editor:

Election time is always with us, every year in one phase or the other, we of this democratic nation have a splendid heritage to perform. Yet, how well do we guard this heritage? YES, we elect the people into office whom we personally believe will fill the job placed into their hands. THEN, we go our different ways of life earning a livelihood, we desire for ourselves and our families, not once thinking of our public officials, or asking questions of their office problems, or offering a helping hand, UNTIL we need to register a complaint, ask a favor, or check-up on a rumor.

WE, of Bay St. Louis, need three great things which would contribute greatly to the improvement and progress of this city: one—a new bridge, toll free, as we need a helping hand not to acquire a huge debt; secondly—a sand beach as a source of recreation for our children, teen-agers, as well as the adults, and thirdly—a repaired seawall to protect the beach property.

How, when and where are we going to obtain these?

First, read the item in Mississippi news of the "Times-Picayune, Friday, February 6, in which the Chancellor calls a $1,000,000 project of the Highway Department a "Fantastic Dream." These funds would add greatly towards the one needed here. The Counsellor-at-Law, representatives of the County and City, and the Senator who resides in town, are a wealth of strength in themselves.

Are the townspeople going to remain dormant or realize, before it is too late, that great competition looms as near as Henderson Point with the beautiful sand beach under construction. As the man on the street says, "this is the most organized, unorganized town"; let us change this into "the most organized, reorganized town." Truly, there are approximately 24 clubs and organizations including the women's organizations an interest in Civic affairs, each would add to its regulations an interest in Civic affairs, the attendance at the Board of Supervisors meeting and the Commission Council meeting, the added authentic information, the fuller sense of cooperation, and greater fellowship. We can no longer sit back and let the other fellow DO it, and continuing up the ladder is certainly of greater importance than falling to the bottom and commencing to climb again.

Respectfully,
An Interested Citizen.

TREES CAN'T WALK AWAY

Congressional Sidelights

Congressman Wm. M. Colmer

RECIPROCAL TRADE

Last week the Administration took it on the chin again when a coalition of Republicans and Democrats wrote three amendments into the Administration Bill extending the Reciprocal Trade Act for another three years in the House. These amendments were all aimed at protecting American industry from ruinous foreign competition in the State Department's trade negotiations with foreign countries.

The so-called "peril point" amendment, sponsored by Pennsylvania's Republican Simpson; the "escape clause" amendment, sponsored by Fair Dealer Bailey of West Virginia; and the party point amendment, sponsored by New Mexico's Conservative Dempsy, were all adopted by top sided votes. The bill now goes to the Senate. Administration leaders aver that if these amendments are not taken out in the Senate, the President will veto the bill. The so-called "peril point" amendment is the most drastic, and if it remains in the bill, we are convinced that the President will veto it. The Dailey and Dempsy amendments, if permitted to remain in the bill, will, however go a long way toward the protection of American agricultural and industrial products from ruinous foreign competition. These amendments could be very helpful in protecting such industries as tung and shrimp of our section.

PARTY LOYALTY AND PATRONAGE

Ever since the 1948 Presidential election there has been a disposition on the part of those now in charge of the Democratic Party to build a strong political machine through political patronage and to attempt to punish Members of Congress who demonstrate measures. South Carolina from the party line on Adolphi, Mississippi, and a few Congressmen from other states have been targets of this program. A threat of carrying this policy into the Defense Program has been evidenced. "The Washington Daily News," commenting recently, said in part:

"ESA FOR DEMOCRATS ONLY"
"Economic Stabilization Agency" (ESA) is being built into nationwide Democratic machine. Democratic National Committee is in charge; is passing on candidates for every job paying $4000 and up.

"Committee asks Democratic governors, senators, state chairmen, national committeemen, for names, sends them on to Price Administrator Michael V. Di Salle.

Party loyalty is a test. No Dixiecrats accepted and no one who opposed President Truman's renomination or otherwise fended off Democrats. Backing from potent party figures is required. Some appointees have price-control experiences; most have not. Lists submitted by Republican officials aren't considered."

ONLY EIGHT TO GO

New Mexico has just ratified the proposed constitutional amendment to limit Presidents of the United States to two consecutive years. It was the 28th state to do so.

The proposal was submitted to the Senate by Congress several years ago and to be adopted the legislatures of at least 36 states must approve.

THE PRESIDENT'S BUDGET MESSAGE

The honeymoon of unity and cooperation between the Congress and the President in the interest for national security, which was begun so auspiciously on January 8 in the State of the Union Message, was disrupted by the inclusion in the President's Budget Message of practically all of the Fair Deal program dressed out now in "defense needs" clothing. The FEPC was there, and so were Federal medical insurance, with a first-year payroll tax of two hundred and seventy-five million dollars, public housing, and the major part of the Brannan plan.

In the State of the Union Message the President had made the following plea:

"I ask the Congress for unity in these crucial days.
"Let each of us put our country ahead of our party, and ahead of our own personal interests."
"Let us all stand together as Americans."

He backed up that plea by offering a realistic ten-point national security program and by emphasizing the importance of measures to assure the survival of the Republic and committing those designated merely to promote the more abundant life of the Fair Deal. It was a program on which most Members of Congress could meet him half-way.

The Budget Message, on the other hand, while calling for a doubling of defense spending next year, as it should have done, made only a token effort to reduce non-defense expenditures and paraded out anew under the banner of "national security," the civil rights program and other "progressive proposals, which are highly controversial and have a definite po-

Southern Democrats are ready and anxious to join hands with the President in a program of national defense in the face of the grave peril to our country, but cooperation is not a one-way street.

THE BUDGET IN BRIEF

The Associated Press gave the following quick summary of the new Budget:

Estimated spending, July 1, 1951 - June 30, 1952... $71,594,000,000
Estimated revenue, same period... $5,138,000,000

The money would be spent as follows:

Military services 41,421,000,000

Public roads 7,803,000,000
Other government functions 7,803,000,000

$71,594,000,000

TAXES, INFLATION AND EXPENDITURES

In the approximate six weeks that Congress has been in session very little legislation has been passed. The Congress, legislatively speaking, has been active in committees rather than upon the floor of its respective bodies. This is nothing new. For, before legislation comes to the floor, it must be considered thoroughly in the committees.

However, the lull on the floor is the quiet before the storm. The committees in both Houses are now considering some of the most controversial and far-reaching problems, submitted by the Administration, that have occupied the attention of the Congress in years. There is the question of another sharp increase in taxes, the consideration of the President's 7 1/2 billion dollar budget, the highly controversial draft and manpower legislation, and, lately, the question of sending troops to Europe.

These are all momentous questions which will occupy the floor for many months to come. The President has requested the Congress to take two bites at the taxpayer with the idea of raising enough taxes to meet the increased expenditures. Congress is balking at this system and sees no reason why it should not give this bitter dose in one package rather than increase the taxes 10 billion dollars now and later in the session come back with a further increase of 6 billion more. This may not be good politics but it makes good sense. This is the system that will likely be followed.

We have on our desk the President's budget request. It is broken down into the various requests of the several departments of the Government. The document itself consists of 1032 pages of fine print and is larger than the Washington and twice as large as the New Orleans telephone directory. In its pages are found requests for a total of 7 1/2 billion dollars, more money than was required to run this government for the first hundred years of its existence.

While it is true that two-thirds or more of this gigantic sum is for national defense, foreign aid, and the payment of previous wars, there is still a sizeable sum for domestic expenditures and administration of the bureaus of government.

Of course, no patriotic American, who realizes the impending danger imposed by Communism and the necessity for national defense, wants to see the country inadequately prepared for war should Stalin decide, in desperation, on another world war. But every informed person knows that there is great waste of manpower and money in our national defense setup. Most of us here believe that substantial savings could be had in this field. The difficulty here, of course, is that the military brass has the advantage over the Congress in the knowledge of scientific warfare, and no patriotic Congressman likes to be put in the position of opposing them when they say that so many billions are needed for atomic bombs, ships, armies, and modern weapons of warfare. On the other hand, the Congress is more familiar with the operation of Government on the home front and knows that substantial waste is going on and savings could be had.

Realizing the drain on the taxpayer, the ruinous inflation that accompanies such large expenditures, and the over-all fact that this country, in spite of all its wealth, cannot continue to spend and spend without having its own economy destroyed, some of us in the Congress are giving much time and study to an organized effort to cut down on the President's budget recommendations, and save as much as 5 to 7 billion dollars from the proposed expenditures and thereby reduce the burden of the American taxpayer and at the same time contribute to a balanced budget and the salvation of the Republic. If this is effected, it will have to come from the Southern Democrats and the Northern Republicans.

The Administration Democrats would, of course, stand by the President's recommendation. The fight will last many months and politics will have to be forgotten if the objective is to be achieved.

Highclimber Tops a Tall Timber

When it comes to spine-tingling action, the man on the flying trapeze can't hold a candle to the loggers who top towering trees in West Coast woods operations. Here a high climber, with crosscut saw and double-bitted axe dangling from his belt, starts up tree to cut out its top. Later this tree will serve as spar to support cables and blocks for logging operation.

Form Plan For Matured "E" Bonds

Members of the House in Congress have taken one of the greatest steps in history in stimulating regular savings by the average American. The action of the House in approving legislation to put into effect the Treasury plan for handling maturing Series E Savings Bonds, beginning May 1, 1951, is important news to all of us in this time of emergency, says Rex I. Brown, State Advisory Chairman, U. S. Savings Bond Division for Mississippi.

Under this plan, the holder will have the choice of:

- (1) accepting cash, if he so desires. Bonds are cashable at any time; or
- (2) continuing to hold his present bond, with an automatic interest-bearing extension. Owners who exercise this extension privilege will receive 2½ per cent simple interest for any part of the next 7½ years; interest during the final 2½ years of the extension will bring the total interest to 2.9 percent compounded; or
- (3) exchange his matured bond for a current income Savings Bond of Series G.

While my purpose in calling attention to the action of the House is primarily designed to give the people of our state a progress report on the enabling legislation, Brown continued, "I cannot help but express the view that Savings Bonds are being made more attractive than ever before as a vehicle for the future prosperity of individuals, communities and the Nation as a whole."

A Savings Bond purchaser will receive 78 percent more than his original investment by holding his bond to maturity and then taking full advantage of his extension privilege for another ten years. Dollar-wise, this means that a Savings Bond buyer has the opportunity to receive $138.33 for the bond he originally purchased for $75.00.

The Treasury emphasizes that: (1) full cash payment of matured Series E Bonds may be had at any time; (2) the holder of maturing E Bonds has the privilege of retaining them but he is under no obligation to do so.

Motorists To Pay $28,000,000 Taxes

Jackson, Mississippi, February 15, 1951. Under the new excise tax schedule presented to Congress by Secretary of Treasury Snyder, motor vehicle owners in Mississippi would be called upon to pay roughly $28,000,000 in Federal automotive taxes annually, Mr. Howard P. Hill, Managing Director of the Mississippi Automobile Club reported today.

"This would be virtually double the amount paid to Uncle Sam in auto excise taxes during 1941, latest year for which detailed figures are available," he pointed out. "This tremendous boost in Federal auto taxes brought a prompt response from A. A. National Headquarters in Washington which issued a statement pointing out that motorists are being asked to foot more than 40 per cent of the entire increase in the excise tax schedules."

"Specifically, Secretary of Treasury Snyder recommended that the excise tax on new cars—a tax that is passed along to the purchaser in the form of a higher price—be raised from 7 per cent to 20 per cent, and that the Federal gasoline tax be raised from 1½ cents a gallon to 3 cents a gallon. Additional revenue from these boosts is estimated by the Treasury at $1,265,000,000, which would bring total Federal automotive tax collections to well past the $2,500,000,000 mark. Even without further tax increases by the states, this would bring the burden of special motor vehicle taxes collected by all levels of government to the staggering total of more than $5,000,000,000 annually as compared with roughly $2,000,000,000 just prior to World War II."

Pass Echoes

WMS MEETS

Mrs. Earl Ramond taught the Mission Study book, "O Jerusalem, City of Christ," at the circle meeting of the Womans Missionary Society of the First Baptist church held at the home of Mrs. Ramond Tuesday afternoon.

In discussing the book, Mrs. Ramond said that the first mission in New Orleans was established in 1945, and today the city of New Orleans has one of the strongest city mission programs in the South. The speaker stated that the chapters devoted to "broken homes where children are left without proper security and home life due them, revealed that Mississippi is the fifth lowest in divorces; only eight percent of marriages in the state have ended in divorce, the list was made up of 23 states.

A challenge was given the group for the great work to be done in prisons by Christians, and the book gave instances where prisoners have been saved because some one on the outside was interested in them.

Following the program, a surprise kitchen and bathroom shower was given for Mrs. Davidson Middleton, who with Mr. Middleton, their daughter, Cery, are leaving Bay St. Louis to make their home in Long Beach.

From an attractively decorated table which was covered with a handmade cut work cloth and centered with an arrangement in keeping with George Washington's birthday, refreshments were served by Mrs. Ramond and her co-hostess, Mrs. A. H. Gregory.

Coast Telephone Repairs Aid Others

"It's a long way from the Coast to Corinth, Tupelo, and other cities in North Mississippi, but the coast is performing a neighborly service for the residents of other Mississippi cities.

A total of 28 Southern Bell telephone, repairmen from here, are in the distant areas, helping the hometown technicians restore service that was knocked out by damage that resulted from the recent ice storm. Mississippi was one of the worst hit areas in the south. We are doing for North Mississippi what they did for us following the 1947 hurricane.

The Coast repairmen took their own repair trucks and equipment. Trucks and tools of the Bell system are standardized so that just such emergency service can be rendered from one telephone exchange to the other on a universal basis.

Pots and pans washing machines, lights and demonstrations on the latest electrical appliances, filled the calendar of Miss Louise Milner last week.

Miss Milner, a resident of Gulfport, is a home economics student at Mississippi Southern College. She spent a week at the local Coast Electric Power part of the field work for the Association's new building as a dent in the home economics department majoring in equipment.

H. H. Shattuck, manager, discussed the aims, goals and programs of the Rural Electrification Association as an organization in the United States with Miss Milner. He also gave the student the goals for the local Coast Electric. She was taken on a tour of the new, modern building and introduced to the personnel.

Miss Loyette Webb outlined the student's work for the day.

Miss Milner followed a daily schedule which included preparing an oven meal as practice on Monday. This enabled her to become familiar with the equipment she was to be using during the week.

With the aid of Miss Webb, she started a tabulation of the survey cards, sent to the five thousand Coast Electric members, on electrical equipment in the rural homes. This gave an overall view of appliances the members use.

An interview with the Sanitation Engineer, Wayne Alliston, was the feature of Tuesday's activities. Following this, Miss Milner wrote a radio script on "Improvements in Dairies and Quality of Milk Since The Family started with Coast Electric Power."

Members of the Kiln high school classes were guests of Coast Electric at a range and laundry demonstration given by Miss Milner. She showed them the proper methods of preparing an oven meal and a complete meal in the deep well-cooker, and of washing feather pillows and other articles.

Miss Theresa Capiola, assistant professor of Home Economics at Mississippi Southern spent Wednesday with her student. She supervises the field work of members of her class. That afternoon, Misses Capiola, Milner and Webb had a radio program at the Poyeune station. They discussed the cooperative program that Coast Electric has entered into with Mississippi Southern for field training of their equipment majors.

Following the broadcast they made home calls on members, helping them on electrical appliance purchases.

They attended a meeting of the Hancock County teachers at Leetown school where they observed the improvements made in lighting and renovation of the classrooms. The program, which was started last August, included the installation of light diffusers which were made by residents of the community, in the windows of four rooms, finishing the floors, painting the walls and ceilings and refinishing the desk tops.

They had interviews with news reporters and appliance dealers in Poyeune Thursday, and Friday Miss Milner and Miss Webb gave a demonstration on how to set up a home study center for children, at McNeill school.

Miss Milner, following her week's work was given an evaluation conference with Mr. Shattuck.

Freeze Damages Telephone Lines

When Southern Bell Telephone Company completed surveying the recent ice storm damage in a five-state area, this week, it was found that damage to its property totaled $5 to $6,000,000, Manager J. C. Dabney revealed today.

The vast and widespread damage to telephone plants was so great that some time yet will be required to complete permanent service restoration, particularly in the matter of long distance lines. Mr. Dabney thanks the public for its understanding and asks for continued patience and cooperation.

800 HELPERS

In the five-state area, where Southern Bell is confronted with one of its biggest service restoration jobs in history, work of getting the service back in order is now in its second week. Hard-working hometown crews are being aided by over 800 telephone men rushed in from other states. Bell System methods and equipment are standardized, which facilitates emergency repair work such as is now being done.

Mr. Dabney pointed out that restoration of services is requiring huge amounts of telephone equipment and supplies. In the five states, 14,500 poles have to be replaced; 7,000 crossarms must be installed; and 48,500 miles of wire of all kinds are being installed.

BACK IN SERVICE
In the storm area, 80 to 85 percent of the affected telephones were back in service by February 14, 1951.

"Long distance service is taking longer to restore," Mr. Dabney said, because long distance lines were damaged over such a wide area of the south. Some delays in getting long distance calls completed are still being encountered.

HOME AGENT'S NOTES

FREEZE PRESENT FOOD PROBLEM

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

"Is it safe to eat canned food that has been frozen?" This is the question often asked ever since "The Big Freeze" the first of the month.

The answer depends on whether the seal was broken when the product froze and whether the food was eaten while still frozen or immediately after thawing.

If the seal has not been broken (either in glass or tin), you can safely eat the food. The product, however, will not be as attractive in texture and appearance, since freezing tends to cause the cell walls to break down.

If the container is glass and broke from freezing, there is danger that the food is contaminated with broken glass. Where two-piece metal closures were used in sealing jars and the metal bands removed according to the manufacturer's instructions, the glass containers will not break. The contents of these containers may be safely eaten if used while frozen or immediately afterwards.

It is not necessary to place the frozen foods canned in glass (or tin) in a freezer locker, if the seal has not been broken. If the seal is broken, then the food may be transferred to moisture-vapor proof containers and stored in the freezer locker. Refreezing products that have thawed after being frozen is not recommended.

State, College, Miss.—A statewide drive to raise $100,000 for programs of the Mississippi 4-H Club Foundation will be held March 3-11, which is National 4-H Club Week, it was announced Friday following a meeting in Jackson of county 4-H leaders, together with representatives of some 30 business, professional and agricultural groups.

County drives will be planned before March 3 by representatives who attended the state meeting, said Les Taylor, vice-president Mississippi Power and Light Company, and president, State 4-H Advisory Council. Each county was assigned a quota in this effort to strengthen and expand Mississippi 4-H Club work.

"Today's 4-H Club members will be tomorrow's farmers, homemakers, bankers, doctors, lawyers, teachers and business men and women," Mr. Taylor pointed out.

The Mississippi 4-H Club Foundation was organized last October to further 4-H work in the state. Objectives are completion of three 4-H training centers, and establishment of scholarships, educational trips and other awards for 4-H boys and girls. Lack of facilities for all 101,605 members to attend camps has hindered the Mississippi 4-H program, leaders stated. Following an effort begun two years ago, construction has started on three training centers, for white 4-H members on Sorris Lake and at Magnolia State Park on the Gulf Coast, and the third for negro members near Canton, in Madison County.

Training center programs will include educational and recreational activities to enrich and improve rural life. Members will participate in crafts; promotion of better health and safety, and conservation of timber, soil and wildlife.

A 4-H Boosters Club will be established during the March 3-11 drive. Membership fees will range from $1,000 to $5, depending upon ability to support the program.

Boosters will receive wall certificates, wallet membership cards and the publication, "4-H Club News," twelve times a year.

Logging It On TV

By JAY METZ

"Stay tuned to WDSU-TV, Channel Six, for the best in TV," says the station announcer once in a while. Now just who's kidding who? We can't do much about it, but we can't do much about it, either. The boys are just practicing, looking ahead to the day when they will have some competition.

Rex (don't know his last name but it sounds like Moat) reminded us the other day that Telekids would return to the screen every Sunday afternoon at 3:30. To warn us of this impending disaster, the highlights of Telekids of 1950 was shown in review, with what was called the outstanding acts of the various weekly programs.

And to think that I was just getting ready to congratulate the station on their very fine Sunday afternoon programs, which were getting better all the time.

I suppose there must be some sort of outlet for our beginners and amateurs. It gives the doting parents an opportunity to show off what their little dears have learned at great expense at the ballet or tap-dancing school, at the singing school, or whatever. Personally, this program would have little appeal except to the parents and relatives of those little ones involved. Some of the talent shows up too soon with too few lessons under their respective belts.

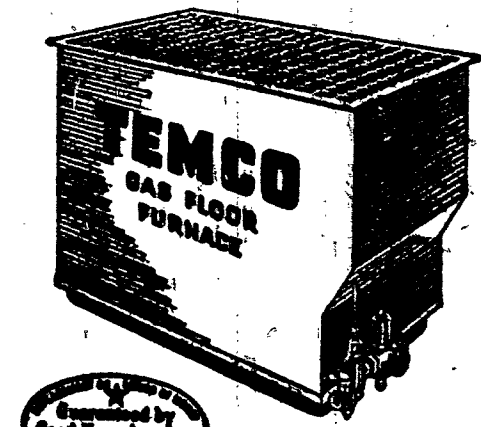

But we mustn't hurt the feelings of those proud parents. It will give them something to talk about for years, and anyway, our stars of the future must start somewhere. Like we have done in the past on radio, we can always turn off the set for a well-deserved rest. Unfortunately, what we lost on the 3:30 spot, I believe, was Super Circus, a superior program for young and old alike.

We have been watching Rex on the various programs and spot commercials. He has acquired a "habit." He has "hands" trouble. Watch him next time. He keeps his hands folded at his waist at all times except when using them for whatever purpose required, standing or seated. Let them dangle once in a while, Rex, or put them in your pockets, or carry a baseball bat around with you.

Watched the Tulane - LSU basketball game Saturday night and was amazed at the apparent lack of sportsmanship on the part of the spectators. Every time that Tulane was fouled, the crowd gave out with a cheer or a satisfied word of agreement or approval to the referees. But whenever Tulane fouled, the crowd set up a terrific roar of disapproval.

with boots, catcalls, and such. The same happened many times on awarding the ball out of bounds. It shouldn't happen, but, again, we got the impression that fewer fouls were being called on Tulane. An impression only, mind you.

Sure, I know, the crowd was a Tulane gathering, and I suppose the same thing happens in reverse up at Baton Rouge. My reaction, in any event, was to start pulling for an LSU victory. And with a little better sportsmanship, it could have happened.

We are looking forward to an early visit from the County Agent or a representative who will give us a landscaping program for the school. Judge Martin got his fireplace built just before the cold weather set in.

Have any of you ridden over the road from Logtown to Napoleon lately? Some chuck holes are almost big enough to lose a wheel in. Reminds me of some of the obstacle courses we had in the Army. Mighty difficult to get from one end of the course to the other without incurring bad jolts and minor damage. The road down into Logtown isn't getting any better either.

One of our citizens, somehow or other, got on somebody's sucker list two months ago, and since then has been flooded with requests to continue here and there, buy this and that, write chain letters, and to join clubs of every type and description.

Mrs. Charlie Casanova has returned home from the Baptist Hospital, following ten days of treatment and observation there. Mrs. Nelson is ill with the flu. Many school children are likewise laid up with the flu bug. Miss Lucia Mettler has been home for almost three weeks recuperating from a recently incurred illness. On Wednesday, Valentine's Day, Lucia celebrated her seventeenth birthday.

Mrs. Emmett Wyman was hostess Saturday evening at 7:30 p. m. at a Valentine Bridal Shower honoring Miss Yvonne Lee; Miss Lee, the first and second grade teacher at the Logtown School, has been with us since 1949.

PMA Asks Farmers To Order Lime

By ordering their lime early and taking delivery when it is ready, farmers of Hancock County can help assure themselves of getting the amount needed for their 1951 agricultural conservation practices. Fitzhugh Lee, Chairman of the Hancock County PMA Committee, announced.

He explains that in order to turn out the lime needed, lime crushers will have to operate full time. In order to move the lime out of their plants as soon as it is crushed since there is little storage space. That means, of course, that crushers must have their orders on hand before they can operate.

Early applications for lime have a number of advantages for farmers, the Chairman points out. When it is applied to the land early, there is a longer time to bring about the changes which promote the growth of legumes.

The soil also has more time to settle into a firm seedbed which is so necessary for the germination of small seeds. And, of course, there is the very practical advantage that farmers who get their lime on during the winter will not have to take the time out to spread the lime during the spring season.

"If farmers follow their customary practices," said the chairman, "and wait until it is time to prepare their land for a legume crop, they may find that they cannot obtain the lime they want."

With the manpower shortage that already exists, which will not get any better, lime crushers will not be able to get crews to operate more than one shift. Even if more lime could be crushed there probably would be shortages of transportation to haul all of it in a short time.

Under the 1951 PMA program, limestone is available to farmers in Hancock County. The amount available will be governed by the number of acres of land in cultivation and the number of acres of land in pasture. A separate allowance is set aside on each farm under the 95 programs in the amount of $1.00 per acre of cropland and $1.00 per acre of non-crop open pasture land not to exceed $100.00 to be used for liming materials. The rate of payment which the PMA will give assistance is $4.20 per ton. According to these figures, it will be impossible to apply lime to all crop land on an individual farm, yet applying some each year, it is possible, over a period of years that all crop land will receive the required lime stone.

At present there are two vendors in Pearl River county who handle lime stone. The Farmers Warehouse has been set up as a Vendor to furnish bagged lime stone at $7.50 per ton and The City Cash Feed Store has been set up as a Vendor to deliver and spread bulk lime at $7.95 per ton. In order to obtain your lime you may either write or call the PMA office in Bay St. Louis and request information pertaining to the liming program but we suggest that you call by the office and find out exactly the funds available for your farm and obtain a purchase order for this material.

With the price of this material as of today, it will cost approximately $3.75 per ton delivered and spread or $3.30 in bags.

Please place your orders at an early date so that this work can be completed prior to planting, Mr. Lee requested.

To Pay Second Insurance Dividend

Payment of a second special dividend totalling $695,000.00 to the holders of some eight million National Service Life Insurance policies was announced by Carl E. Gray, Jr., Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

Dividends will be calculated through the anniversary date of the policy in 1951 and payment will follow a general schedule over the period of one year. The first checks will be ready in April. VA emphasized that no deviation from calculations or advancement in the production line can be made.

Veterans were urged by VA not to write regarding the second dividend, since correspondence will cause removal of the file from the production lines and delay payment.

The payments will cover a three-year period, from 1948 to 1951. Policies held in force from a total of three months or more during this period will be eligible for dividends. This applies both to term and permanent plan policies, including those which have lapsed or were terminated by death of the insured.

The amount of dividend earned by each policy will vary according to the number of months it was in force, the plan of insurance, face value of the policy and the age of the insured at the time it became effective. Studies on rates still are being made, VA said.

The first special dividend of $2.8 billion, payment of which now is virtually completed, covered the period each policy was in force up to its anniversary date in 1948. The second dividend will be for the number of months in force from that date to the corresponding date in 1951. Policies issued in 1948, 1949 and 1950 will earn dividends up to their anniversaries in 1951.

Of the more than 16 million policies involved in the first special dividend payment, only 40,000 for which application has been filed remain to be paid. These require special handling. VA said that the vast majority of the remaining policies require extensive search for development, many of them from records outside of the VA, to verify premium payments. This is a vast reduction from the approximately 40,000 of these cases requiring special handling that remained to be paid on June 1, 1950. Veterans who have applied and who are entitled to payments of the first special dividend checks were assured by the Veterans Administration that every effort is being made to effect payment.

Unlike the first dividend, no application will be required for the second dividend. In any case where there may be a question as to the address or record, a special, two-part return card will be mailed for verification of the proper address before a check is sent.

Special dividends are payable only in cash and may not be left on deposit at interest. However, the check may be cashed and the proceeds used to prepay insurance premiums, which results in savings equal to three percent annual interest on premiums paid more than three months in advance.
